Mission Statement

Larimer County Community Corrections is committed to community safety and client accountability. We provide a continuum of innovative services and treatment that is responsive to individual client risk, needs, and differences. We empower clients to take responsibility for their actions, and promote positive choices and internal change, resulting in reduced recidivism in our community.

Introduction

Larimer County Community Corrections' program is designed to enhance community safety while helping residents become successful in their communities. The programming originates from evidence-based practices proven to help residents become more productive, independent, and successful members of our community.

At Community Corrections, we know that friends, family, and community support play a vital role in our residents' stability and success. We have designed this guidebook with friends and family in mind so that you will know what is expected of your resident while they are in our facility. Knowledge of our rules will enable you to help them be accountable and succeed in the program. If you have a question that isn't answered in this guide, please give us a call and we would be happy to assist you. For men's programs, please call 970-498-7527. FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How will I know when my resident arrives? Can I visit right as soon as they arrive?

We suggest that you apply for visitation a few days before you expect your resident to arrive to allow time for processing, and once approved you can schedule a visit as soon as possible. After orientation, new residents are permitted to make a limited number of phone calls from the office phone to notify friends or family that they have arrived.

How long will my resident be in the program?

There is no set timeline for completion of the program. Each resident will have a structured individual program with different goals and requirements that will affect the length of their stay. Advancement through the program is based on compliance with those requirements.

How much money can I give my resident?

You may bring cash and give it to your resident during scheduled visits only or you may send money through the mail; however, they will be responsible for keeping their money safe. They can ask their case manager about a specific individual limit.

How do I find out if my resident doing in well in their program?

Case managers and residential staff can only provide general information about the overall program, but if your resident would like to allow you to get information about their program, they may opt to sign a release of information and designate what information can be shared. This is entirely up to the resident to choose to do, and without a signed release, most information cannot be shared.

Why do payments to LCCC have to be made with money orders?

A money order is a secure form of payment that is easier to keep track of and pose significantly less risk to the resident and the program. Money orders can be replaced when lost or stolen, and cash cannot.

What is Administrative Review?

Administrative Review is the ruling body of the agency. It is a panel comprised of representatives from security, case management, and treatment. It is chaired by a member of management. This panel reviews a client's current violation in the context of their overall history, along with behavior and progress, to determine if they will remain in the program or be terminated.

My resident was terminated from the program. How can I pick up their property?

During orientation, residents are asked to designate a contact person to pick up their property in the event that they are terminated from the program and to update the information if it changes during their stay. Each resident is provided with a combination lock for their locker and will be responsible for keeping their own property secured while in the facility. In the event a resident is placed into custody or escapes from the program, staff immediately locks up the resident's property and it is held in locked storage until it is determined that the resident will not be returning to the facility. While every effort is made to secure a resident's locker, LCCC is not responsible for any lost or stolen items. The case manager will notify the designated pickup person by phone and that person will have 14 days to pick up the items. If you are not listed on the property release form, you will not be able to pick up the resident's property.
