Resource Guide 2017-2018

The Larimer County Office on Aging (LCOA), located in the Department of Human Services, is the Area Agency on Aging (AAA) for Larimer County. As one of sixteen AAA's in Colorado, LCOA receives funding from the Federal Older Americans Act and the Older Coloradans Fund to provide services to Larimer County residents who are 60 and older, and to serve as the lead agency in planning and coordinating those services. As part of the LCOA, the Aging and Disability Resources for Colorado (ADRC) also serves adults over the age of 18 with a disability.

With Older Americans Act and Older Coloradans funds, the LCOA funds community partners to provide a range of programs. These programs provide supportive services and opportunities for older adults to enhance their health, help vulnerable older adults, especially those at risk of losing their independence, to remain in their own homes and maintain their independence.

Advance Directives

Every adult has the legal right to consent to or refuse medical treatment. Advance directives are written instructions recognized under state law that can be used at any stage of life to ensure that the medical treatment you receive is consistent with your wishes and preferences should you be unable to make your own decisions. Signing an advance directive does not take away your right to decide what you want, if you are able to do so, but allows for your wishes to be known and honored when you cannot communicate them yourself. Advance medical directives in Colorado include: Medical Durable Power of Attorney, Living Wills, CPR Directives; Organ and Tissue Donation Declarations, MOST form and Disposition of Last Remains Declarations. Advance medical directives may be revoked or amended at any time.

Medical Durable Power of Attorney (MDPOA)

In Colorado, no one is given automatic authority to make decisions for another adult. A Medical Durable Power of Attorney is a document you sign naming someone else to make your healthcare decisions when you cannot do so. This may be temporary due to an accident or injury, or more long term if due to permanent incapacity. The person you name is called your healthcare agent. A healthcare agent only has authority to make all healthcare decisions you could have made yourself if able to do so, such as consult with healthcare providers, review or get copies of your medical records, and make all necessary healthcare treatment and placement decisions. Your healthcare agent is NOT, however, authorized to pay your bills, manage your bank account or handle any other financial matters. For that, you need to appoint an agent under a Financial or General Durable Power of Attorney. The agent must act according to his or her understanding of your wishes and preferences. He or she must set aside his or her own values and preferences and do what you would do. If your wishes are not known, your agent must act in your best interest. Your health care agent is also not permitted to direct your medical treatment over your objection. Filing for dissolution of marriage or legal separation terminates authority of a spouse listed as agent unless specified otherwise and the authority under any Power of Attorney ends at your death.

Living Will

A Colorado “Declaration as to Medical or Surgical Treatment”, or Living Will, is a document you sign expressing your wishes to the doctor regarding the administration, withholding, or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures and artificial nutrition and hydration. A Living Will has narrow application and is only effective if at some future time you are unable to make your own decisions and are certified by two doctors to have either a terminal condition or you are in a persistent vegetative state (PVS). A terminal condition is incurable or irreversible and for which life-sustaining treatment will only postpone the moment of death. Persistent vegetative state results from a severe brain injury and generally means that the person is alive and may appear to sleep and wake, but is completely unaware of his or her surroundings; cannot speak, drink, or eat; and may not be able to feel or react to pain. Life-sustaining procedures are those that only serve to prolong the dying process, including intubation, CPR, dialysis and surgery. In Colorado, you may also designate in your Living Will your decision to accept or reject any tube feeding and other forms of artificial nutrition and hydration as well as whether or not you wish to donate organs and/or tissues. You may also include other instructions about your care, but these instructions will only go into effect at the same time as the Living Will. All treatment necessary to alleviate pain and suffering, however, will continue to be provided regardless of your choices made on the Living Will. Your doctor must make a good effort to notify persons close to you that a certification of your lack of capacity and a terminal or PVS condition has been made. There is a 48 hour period after certification and notice before the doctor is required to withdraw or withhold all life sustaining procedures if so directed. You can include a list of persons to be notified in the Living Will document, with their contact information. You can also include a list of persons authorized to talk to your doctors about your condition and care with the understanding that these persons are not empowered to make any decisions regarding your care. Your doctors, proxy decision maker, or guardian cannot override your Living Will. Your health care agent may also not override directions stated in your Living Will unless expressly stated otherwise in your Living Will or MDPOA. In Colorado, a Living Will must be witnessed by two uninterested persons, and notarized if possible.

CPR Directive

A Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation Directive (CPR Directive) allows you – or your healthcare agent, guardian, or proxy decision maker to refuse resuscitation on your behalf. Advance CPR Directives are orders written by a patient to state their wishes for care in the case of cardiopulmonary arrest. These orders give attending healthcare providers instruction on the patient's wishes for care if they cannot speak for themselves. The document is signed by you or an authorized decision maker and a doctor. If you sign a CPR directive for yourself, no one else can revoke it. CPR is an attempt to revive someone whose heart and/or breathing has stopped by using special drugs and/or machines or by firmly and repeatedly pressing the chest. If you don't have a CPR Directive and your heart and/or lungs stop or malfunction, your consent to CPR is assumed. However, if you have a CPR Directive refusing resuscitation, and your heart and/or lungs stop or malfunction, then paramedics and doctors, emergency personnel or others will not use procedures to get your heart and/or lungs working again. A Do Not Resuscitate (DNR) order is not the same as an advance directive. A DNR order is a doctor directed order written in your medical chart while you are being cared for in a healthcare facility, such as a hospital or nursing home. The doctor will likely discuss this order with you or your surrogate decision maker, but may enter the order without a patient's consent or knowledge. DNR orders are written when your doctor believes that resuscitation would not work or might cause more harm than good. A DNR order expires when you are discharged from that facility. A CPR Directive is a type of advance directive that you make for yourself or an authorized decision maker makes for you, and it is valid outside of the healthcare facility. Signing a CPR Directive does not mean you won't receive other medical care such as medicine, other treatment for pain, bleeding, broken bones or comfort care. If you sign a CPR Directive make sure to display it prominently so that emergency medical services can find it and honor your wishes.

Organ and Tissue donation Declarations

Declarations regarding organ and tissue donation may be made in a stand-alone document, MDPOA, Living Will, or on your driver's license. If you do not make a declaration, your healthcare agent, spouse, adult children, parents, adult siblings, adult grandchildren, grandparents, caregiver or your guardian, if applicable, gets to decide whether or not to make an organ and/or tissue donation.

Disposition of Last Remains Declarations

You have the right and power to direct the disposition of your last remains. This declaration may be made in a will; prepaid funeral, burial or cremation contract; MDPOA; Designated Beneficiary Agreement; or Living Will. The declaration may cover disposition (cremation, burial, entombment) and ceremonial instructions, and must be signed and dated by you. If you do not make a declaration, your Personal Representative, spouse, designated beneficiary, adult children, parents, guardian, conservation, majority of adult siblings, THEN any person willing to pay your funeral expenses gets to decide for you.

MOST Form

The Medical Orders for Scope of Treatment (MOST) form is a 1-page, 2-sided document that summarizes choices for key life-sustaining treatments including CPR, general scope of treatment, and artificial nutrition and hydration. For each type of treatment, the patient may refuse treatment, request full treatment, or specify limitations. The MOST is primarily intended for use by frail elderly, chronically or seriously ill, persons in frequent contact with healthcare providers, or already living in a nursing facility. It is completed by the patient with decisional capacity or authorized decision maker along with a healthcare provider who can explain what each of the choices means for that patient at that time. Then it is signed by the patient or healthcare agent/proxy/guardian and a physician, advanced practice nurse, or physician's assistant. The MOST form, when signed, becomes a portable medical order set that communicates a patient's desire for particular treatments on bright green card stock.

If you do not appoint a healthcare agent while you are able to make your own decisions, Colorado law offers two options: selection of a proxy decision maker for healthcare or appointment of a guardian.

Proxy Decision Maker for Medical Treatment

If you do not make any advance medical directives, and a doctor has determined that you cannot make your own decisions, the doctor may rely on a proxy decision maker. In order to appoint a proxy, the doctor must make reasonable efforts to locate and notify as many "interested persons" as possible, those with a close interest in your well-being. These people include your spouse or partner, parents, adult children, siblings, adult grandchildren, even close friends. The group must agree by consensus which one of them will serve as your proxy decision maker. Ideally, this person knows you and your wishes for medical treatment best. If your wishes are not known, the proxy, like your healthcare agent, must act in your best interest. The proxy must make an effort to consult with you and the rest of the group about the decisions to be made. If the group cannot agree on who the proxy should be if the patient objects to the selection or if at any time the group cannot agree about particular decisions, the only option is for someone in the group to go to court to ask for appointment of a guardian. The proxy's decision making capabilities are limited and may require consultation from the attending physicians, specialists and possibly a medical ethics committee. If there is no person willing or able to serve, a physician (NOT your attending physician) may be appointed to serve as proxy decision maker. The proxy decision maker may be removed if the patient regains decisional capacity or is discharged.

Guardians

Guardians are appointed by the court to perform a certain set of duties on behalf of an incapacitated person. This person is called a ward or protected person. The law regards a person as being incapacitated when he or she is unable to make or communicate decisions concerning himself or herself. This may be due to mental illness, mental impairment, physical illness or disability, chronic use of drugs and/or alcohol, or other causes. A court order might appoint a guardian to make medical care and treatment decisions or a conservator to manage the ward's financial affairs. A court might appoint a limited guardian to provide particular services for a specific length of time. Generally the duties of a guardian are to decide where the ward should live; to arrange for necessary care, treatment or other services for the ward; and to see that the basic daily personal needs of the ward are met, including food, clothing and shelter.

General Durable Power of Attorney

A General Durable Power of Attorney authorizes another person (your agent) to make decisions concerning your property for you (the principal). Your agent will be able to make decisions and act with respect to your property (including your money) whether or not you are able to act for yourself. This power of attorney does not authorize the agent to make healthcare decisions for you. You should select someone you trust to serve as your agent. Unless you specify otherwise, generally the agent's authority will continue until you die or revoke the power of attorney or the agent resigns or is unable to act for you. If your agent is unable to or unwilling to act for you, your power of attorney will end unless you have named a successor agent. You may also name a second successor agent. A statutory form can be found at "Uniform Power of Attorney Act," Part 7 of Article 14 of Title 15, Colorado Revised Statutes. This statutory power of attorney for Colorado becomes effective immediately unless you state otherwise in the special instructions.

Social Security Disability Programs

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) are both federal programs that provide cash payments to people who meet the federal definition of “disabled”.

SSI is designed to meet the basic needs of elderly, blind and disabled individuals who would otherwise have a hard time paying for food and shelter. SSI has very strict financial requirements, making it what is known as a “means-tested” benefit. The monthly benefit for SSI is $735. Typically a person who receives SSI immediately qualifies for Medicaid benefits.

SSDI is an entitlement program that is typically available to any person who has paid into the Social Security system for a least ten years, regardless of that person’s current income and assets. Since SSDI is based on the beneficiary’s earnings record, SSDI benefits vary widely when it comes to the amount of money provided. The average benefit in 2016 was $1165 per month.

If an individual’s SSDI benefit is less than the SSI benefit ($735), that individual may also be eligible for SSI benefits. SSDI beneficiaries are eligible to receive Medicare two years after they are deemed eligible for SSDI benefits.

To apply for SSI and SSDI please contact your local Social Security office to make an appointment:

Home Health Care Agencies

Home care helps make it possible for people to remain at home rather than use residential, long-term, or institutional-based nursing care. In Colorado, home care agencies are required to be licensed and there is a distinction between “home health care” and “home care” agencies.

Home Health Care Agency – medical home care services are provided by registered nurses, certified nursing assistants, physical, speech and occupational therapists, social workers, and dietitians. Services may include medical or psychological assessments, wound care, medication management, pain management, disease education, physical therapy, speech and occupational therapy.

Home Care Agency – non-medical home care services are provided by home care aides and certified nursing assistance. Services may include assistance with shopping, companionship and supervision, house-cleaning, and errands as well as activities of daily living (ADLs) such as bathing, eating, hygiene, dressing, and ambulation. Services are provided by home care aides and certified nursing assistants.

The Colorado Department of Public Health & Environment is responsible for the licensing and monitoring of both the medical and non-medical home care agencies in Colorado.

Affordable Housing

The following list are senior/disabled specific apartments that offer reduced rent, or subsidized rent through HUD project-based housing vouchers. Rent is based on income and eligibility for this housing may be based either on age and/or disability status. A separate application must be completed for each property. Apartments that are designated as reduced may accept Section 8 housing vouchers. Please call each listing for more information.

Reduced Rent: senior apartments that are subsidized by the city or county. Rent is set at a below market value for those who meet income guidelines. On average, monthly rent varies between $600-$800. Rent may increase even if income does not.

Subsidized Housing: senior apartments that are subsidized by the federal government, county, city or private funds. In most cases, rent is 30% of adjusted gross income for those who meet income guidelines.

Assisted Living Homes

An assisted living community is a care option that combines housing and support services. Assisted living is designed for individuals who require assistance with everyday activities such as meals, medication management, bathing, dressing and transportation.

Most assisted living communities determine the monthly rate based on levels of care. Facilities assess each resident and the assessment generally uses a point system based on activities of daily living (ADLs); bathing, dressing, grooming, mobility, continence, eating, medication management and laundry. A resident that needs assistance with several ADLs will have a higher monthly rate than a resident who is more independent.

Memory Care: Some assisted living communities specialize in dementia and Alzheimer's care and can provide more assistance in ADLs such as mobility, incontinence and other challenges associated with dementia and Alzheimer's.

The assisted living communities that only provide memory care are noted below as "memory community". The assisted living communities that have a designated "memory care unit" are noted below as "memory unit".

Independent Living Communities

Independent living is housing designed exclusively for seniors, generally those aged 55 and over. Residents live independently in apartments or freestanding homes. Most communities offer activities and services that give seniors the opportunity to connect with peers. Other services offered may include beauty and barber salons, daily meals, basic housekeeping and laundry services. Independent living facilities are aimed at older adults who need little or no assistance with activities of daily living such as bathing, dressing and mobility and they do not provide any medical care. As with regular housing, you can hire in-home help separately if necessary.

Medical Care

CICP

Colorado Indigent Care Program (CICP) provides discounted health care services to low-income people and families. CICP is not a health insurance program. Through this program, discounted health care services are provided by hospitals and clinics that participate in CICP.

You may qualify for CICP if you legally reside in Colorado, meet income (250% FPL) and resource guidelines and are not eligible for Medicaid or CHP+. If you have Medicare or other health insurance you may still qualify for CICP.

Household Size	Maximum Monthly Income (2017)
1	$2,512
2	$3,383
3	$4,254
4	$5,125

Medical services covered under CICP may be different at each participating hospital or clinic. Services may include: urgent care, inpatient hospital care, primary care and prescription drugs. With CICP, you are responsible for co-payments for the services you receive. Your income and resources determine what you pay. You are responsible for medical care or tests not covered by the CICP provider. You must apply at each location and cannot transfer your CICP from one location to another location. Since CICP is not a health insurance program, it does not satisfy the individual responsibility (mandate) requirement for people to have health insurance. If you only have CICP, you may be charged a penalty for not having health insurance.

Medicare

Medicare is a health insurance program for people 65+, those under age 65 with qualifying disabilities or any individual with end-stage renal disease. You MUST apply for Medicare benefits the month before you turn 65. Exceptions may apply as to when to enroll if you have other qualifying healthcare such as health insurance benefits from an employer. If you do not apply or do not have other qualifying health insurance coverage, penalties may apply when/if you do apply for Medicare benefits.

For more information, please visit the website: <https://www.medicare.gov/>

Medicare Supplemental Insurance

There can be gaps in your Original Medicare (Part A and Part B) coverage. Co-payments, coinsurance and deductible are costs that you are often responsible for paying. Medicare Supplemental Insurance serves as an enhancement to Original Medicare by filling in those coverage gaps. These plans may be purchased through private insurance companies and have monthly premiums. The best time to purchase/enroll in a Medicare Supplemental Insurance plan is during the Open Enrollment Period (OEP), which is six months long, beginning on the first day of the month in which you turn age 65. You have a guaranteed issue right to purchase a Medicare Supplemental policy during your OEP period which means, the insurance company may not review your medical history and the potential risk level it may or may not represent if you are in the OEP period. If you purchase a Medicare Supplemental policy after the OEP period, your approval and monthly premium will be subject to your medical history and potential risk level; you may be denied coverage or incur higher plan costs because of health issues.

Medicare (continued)

Medicare Long Term Care Benefits

Medicare DOES NOT PAY for the cost of long term nursing home care, assisted living home care, or long term in-home care. Medicare does pay for some short term rehabilitative services under your Part A benefit after a qualifying hospital stay.

For a complete list of Medicare benefits visit medicare.gov or call (800) 633-4227.

Medicare Advantage Plans

If you enroll in a Medicare Advantage Plan (sometimes call “Part C” or “HMO plan”), you still have Medicare, but your plan’s benefits may differ from Original Medicare. Advantage plans cover all of the Medicare services but for example, your co-pay, coinsurance, and number of rehab days may not be the same as Original Medicare. Medicare Advantage Plans can charge different out-of-pocket costs and have different rules for how you get services, such as when you need a referral to see a specialist, or if you are required to only see “network” doctors, which skilled nursing and rehab facilities are in the plan, or which suppliers you can use that belong to the plan. Medicare Advantage Plans may also offer extra coverage. If you need help determining whether or not an Advantage plan is right for you, please contact the local State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP) office for assistance (Fort Collins 970-495-8560 or Loveland 970-624-1860).

What are the different parts of Medicare?

Medicare Part A (Hospital Insurance)

You usually don’t pay a monthly premium for Part A coverage if you or your spouse paid Medicare taxes while working. If you did not pay Medicare taxes, you can buy Part A coverage and pay a monthly premium.

- Inpatient care in hospitals
- Skilled nursing facility care (for rehab services)
- Hospice care
- Home health care

Medicare Part B (Medical Insurance)

The standard Part B premium amount in 2017 is $134 (or higher depending on your income). However, most people who get social security benefits pay less than this amount. If your Part B premium is deducted from your social security benefit, you will pay less ($109 on average). Social Security will notify you regarding the exact amount you will pay for you Part B premium.

- Services from doctors and other health care providers
- Outpatient care
- Home health care
- Durable medical equipment
- Some preventative services

Medicare Part C (Medicare Advantage)

- Managed by Medicare-approved private insurance companies
- Includes all benefits and services covered under Part A and Part B
- Usually includes Medicare prescription drug coverage (Part D) as part of the plan
- May include extra benefits and services for an extra cost

Medicare Part D (Medicare prescription drug coverage)

- Managed by Medicare-approved private insurance companies
- Helps cover the cost of prescription drugs
- May help lower your prescription drug costs and help protect against higher costs in the future
