<tr>
<td>Working with the river and the public, The Big Thompson River Restoration Coalition seeks to restore and enhance the Big Thompson River Corridor to meet the needs of local stakeholders while protecting fish and wildlife habitat, water quality, native riparian and wetland plant communities and other critical ecosystem services that a healthy watershed provides. We are a coalition of individuals, non-profit groups, local businesses, and government entities seeking a collaborative, voluntary process to maximize the economic, social, recreation and environmental benefits of the Big Thompson River.</td>

<tr>
<td>Company Overview:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Big Thompson River Restoration Coalition is a newly-established coalition working to respond to the flooding in Fall 2013. BTRRC has established teams of technical advisors to visit sections of river, providing ecological and restoration recommendations for rapid response and long-term efforts. BTRRC also aims to obtain resources and recruit volunteers for approved restoration projects along the Big Thompson River corridor, provide recommendations about dealing with immediate issues and sign stakeholders up for participation in long-term restoration projects. In addition, the BTRRC facilitates communication between stakeholders and agencies that provide funding and/or authorization for river restoration projects.</td>
